The modern institution of exchanges dates more particularly from the 16th century in Continental Europe. The name Borse in German, Bourse in French, originated from the belief that the first gathering of the kind took place in the early part of the 16th century at Bruges, in Flanders, in the house of a family of the name of Van der Borse. According to another tradition, the first exchange was had at Amsterdam, in a house which had three purses hewn in stone over the gates, thus accounting for the use of the word Bourse. Previous to the latter part of the 16th century, the London...

Reviews

An incredibly amazing ebook with perfect and lucid answers. It is written in basic terms and never difficult to understand. It has been written in an exceptionally basic way and it is only right after I finished reading this ebook in which it in fact modified me, affected the way I really believe.
