Every Christian feels the need of going back, from time to time, to the simplest elements of religion, and becoming a child again among children. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength. Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. The best part of our knowledge of divine things is contained in those familiar verses of the Bible and the hymn-book which we learn at home and in school; and, when we come to die, we willingly exchange the most learned systems of theology for the Lord's Prayer and the Creed, which recall to our heart the sacred memories and traditions of childhood. A Catechism on the Christian religion should present the articles of faith fresh from the fountain of the word of God to the mind and heart of the pupil, for his instruction and comfort in life and in death. It should give no undue proportion to any particular doctrine, but should move in the central current of Christian truth. The more important denominational differences may be stated for historical information, but in a kind and charitable spirit, and with a view to promote rather than to diminish unity and harmony among the various branches of Christ's kingdom. There is room, however, for a variety of Catechisms, corresponding to the different degrees of Christian nurture, which commences at home under the eye of the mother, is carried...
