Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Office of Productivity and Technology, 2005 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)213482681 Subject: Retirement -- United States. Excerpt: . . . Earlier studies have shown the impact of the availability of health insurance coverage 12 beyond the FTC job on retirement patterns. Table 7 reports first transitions of respondents by health insurance status on their FTC jobs. Because individuals aged 65 and older are eligible for Medicare, the sample in Table 7 includes only those who are younger than 65 in 2002. We find that men and women who have no health insurance on their FTC job are most likely to take a bridge job if they leave their career job, as 78 percent of these uninsured men and 74 percent of the women did. Also, both men and women who lose health insurance coverage when leaving a 13 FTC job are more likely to exit the labor force completely than other workers in the sample. Men with defined-benefit (DB) pension plans, which often contain age-specific financial incentives to leave the job,...
