Communion office, and the next part of which is made up of the three verses beginning Day by day, we magnify thee, which were just now quoted as embodied in the Te Deum. These verses may therefore be regarded as a fragment taken from the morning hymn in use in the Eastern or perhaps the Roman Church of probably the 3rd century. I have now said enough to suggest to you specimens of the sources from which the Te Deum is derived, and to illustrate to you the assertion that it is a hymn in which the unknown author has arranged some of the jewels of thought and praise of earlier ages than his own. The literary and linguistic inquiry is not exhausted, but the further pursuit of it would be unprofitable in a sermon. II. Let us now try to understand the purpose of...
